

NOW... Get out of THAT!

April 21-23, 2023

The time is rapidly approaching for the Taughannock District's Spring Camporee. Your patrol will be faced by challenges along a trail. You will have to use your wits to get back to civilization (or to your campsite, whichever comes first). You'll find your way along a mysterious route, encountering stations containing problems which you'll have to solve before you can leave the station, as well as hints to guide you to your next destination...

Your way is blocked by a person who holds a clue which will let you pass onward along the trail. He can only shake his head or nod, and he always lies... Now, get out of that!

You find a locked box, which might contain things which you'll need later on. The key is located where you cannot walk... Now, get out of that!

Your path leads through a part of the veldt notorious for dangerous man-eating tortoises. They're slow and deadly, but they can't climb... Now, get out of that!

Your patrol runs into another patrol. Are they enemies or allies? That might depend on the nature of the problem... Cooperate or compete? Now, get out of that!

If you complete a problem within the set time, you'll receive points (the quicker you solve the problem, the more points you get) and a coupon which you can redeem for supplies at the end of the route (or trade off to other patrols for their coupons). Those supplies will be used to solve one last problem to earn bonus points for your patrol.

At the end of the day, the patrol with the most points – taking into account time penalties for mixing things up or not following the rules – will be the winner.

Are you ready for the challenge? Good! Now, get out of that!

If your troop is up for the challenge, get in your reservation by April 1, 2023!
